

Who will benefit from the course and how who

- software engineers
- site reliability engineers
- software engineering managers
- product managers

how before interview

- saves you many hours
- keeps your focus on what matters the most during interview

- helps you speak the system design language
- helps you think in the language of system design

after interview

- helps you write better design documents
- helps you hold constructive discussion during design reviews